Mrs. Wilson said that she and her husband probably will go in October "when the weather and shows are better." Lemon Grove Camera store won a prize for having the best decorated window advertising the contest.

Salt Water Pollution Tests Nearly Done

By mid-July every salt water recreational area in the county will be tested for pollution, according to a recent report from the San Diego Health Dept. Water samples will be taken at 75 points along the county's coast in a very extensive survey. The samples will be tested in the Dept. of Public Health laboratory to see if each area is safe for water sports.

The State Dept. of Public Health has sent an assistant sanitary engineer and chemist to help in this annual check the Dept. said. Polluted waters will be posted with warnings against bodily contact or may be quarantined.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

We wish every youngster could have heard the conversation between this publication and the parents of Warren David Harper after their 21-year-old son was caught up in the marijuana-drinking party raid in Lemon Grove last week.

The heart-rending anguish of the 62-year-old mother, and father, a 69-year-old semi-retired pharmacist should be penalty enough for this now-contrite young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Harper live at 7452 Waite dr. She asked us to point out that the marijuana party was being held at 7679 Lemon ave., in Lemon Grove, at the home of the two other young men who were also arrested. . . not at the Harper home on Waite dr.

"Children just don't know what these things to do their parents," she sobbed. "My boy is a good boy and has never been in any kind of trouble before. He doesn't drink and he has never even had a traffic ticket. Now I know that the fellows who used to visit him at home were trying to make him buy the stuff. He used to ask me to tell them he wasn't at home. He is a good boy and he just stopped at the party when he was arrested."

Mrs. Harper said "He came home the other night with two nice fellows and I thought they had come home with him to talk about buying his car. He is always trying to buy or sell a car, you know. When they told me they were officers and he was under arrest it almost killed me. The officers were very nice and told me they thought Warren was a good boy, too. . . but the dreadful happened and nothing can change that," she said.

Mrs. Harper asked us to tell this story so as to correct the impression that the party was being held at her home. It was at the house occupied by two 20-year-old youths at 7679 Lemon st.

If this makes only one youngster stop and contemplate his actions before performing a deed that can do nothing less than break the hearts of his parents, this space will have been well used.

Robert Lange, another of the youths picked up in that narcotics squad raid on a party being held last week in a house on Lemon avenue in Lemon Grove, was a visitor to our office a couple of days ago.

He came expressly to ask for a better public understanding of marijuana and its use by teenagers. He said the public wouldn't be repelled by the knowledge that youngsters used it if they understood it better.

Lange is a nice looking, clear eyed young man, who seems to have a better than average intellect. We thought his statements were so unusual that we are repeating them

Prelim Budget Approved by JHSD Trustees

A preliminary budget for 1960-61 in the amount of $7,04,000 was approved by the Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees last week. The budget reflected a "hold the line" policy on expenditures for the 1960-61 fiscal year with a budgeted per pupil cost for current expenditures of $469 compared to $468 budgeted for the fiscal year ending June 30. The budget increase amounted to $973,000 or 15.5% over last year.

Associate Superintendent Harold G. Hughes pointed out the budget increase was 15.9% as compared to an enrollment increase of 20.2%. This budget provides for 1922 more students than during the current year. Hughes indicated that the budget would be reviewed by the County and subject to slight revisions before publication in July and adoption at the budget hearing scheduled for August 1. A tax rate of $1.25 with a 15% increase in assessed valuation was estimated to be necessary to finance the continuation of the educational program at the same level as for this year.

Hughes also presented comparison of actual per pupil cost for the years 1955-60 in the Grossmont Union High School District in relationship to state averages for large high school districts. This showed the current expense cost for the Grossmont Union High School District in 1958-59 was $414 compared to $491 for other high school districts or $77 less per pupil. Costs have consistently ranged $60 to $80 below state averages and reflects efficiency and economy in operation of the district, said Lewis F. Smith, District Superintendent.

Cosby Relected School Board President

Bert Cosby, president of the Lemon Grove school board, has been reelected for a one year term.

Warren Buckner was elected vice president and Attorney Robert Sjogren was elected clerk of the board.

Byron Netzley, school superintendent, again became secretary, a procedural appointment. Elections are called once each year among members of the five-man board at a special meeting.

The board set August 1 for a public meeting date for the 1960-61 budget. This is also a procedural action in that the budget has already been approved with needed changes. It is unlikely that the budget could be changed at the August hearing.

EASTERN STAR PICNIC IS SET FOR JULY 17

La Mesa Chapter No. 300 OES will celebrate their annual picnic Sunday, July 17 at 11 a.m. at El Monte Park. Chairmen of the picnic are Mr. Stanley C. Rogers and Mr. William G. Young. Transportation will be furnished by Mrs. Stanley C. Rogers, 4326 No. Rogers rd., Spring Valley.

$750,000 Worth Of Jobs Open

No matter how you look at it there's no dearth of jobs this summer in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area.

In just one store in the College Grove shopping center, 216 jobs were thrown open this week.

The jobs are listed elsewhere in this edition of this newspaper with application instructions by the J. J. Newberry department store and roughly consists of openings for 150 girls in sales department; 47 department heads and 15 waitresses and four cooks and bakers.

These jobs will add more than three-quarters of a million dollars annually to the local economy.

Broadway Lighting District Proposed

Green-eyed and blonde Terry Olsen perches atop a sports car which, in turn, is perched atop a pair of lifting devices invented by a Lemon Grove man. The ramps measure 10 1/2-8-45. Miss Olsen: 37 1/2-24-35. The ramps under the car were invented by Lt. James E. Tassell. Miss Olsen is also Miss Southern California.

Local Man Invents Lifting Device

A Navy lieutenant who lives in the Lemon Grove area is achieving fame as an inventor.

The officer, Lt. James E. Tassell of 6818 51st st., is now manufacturing and marketing a car lift under the trade name of "Porta-Lift."

His invention is a 28 pound portable ramp which supports the weight of an auto. As a matter of fact it is tested to support more than 11,000 pounds of weight. The auto is driven up the inclined slope of the device to permit work to be done on the underneath side of the car.

As simple as the device is, no one has patented the device before, Lt. Tassell said.

The Allied Automotive Equipment Co. in El Cajon has manufactured more than 200 Porta-Lifts so far but is preparing for production of 600 units a month as the market for them expands.

Lt. Tassell is also the inventor of a collar insignia square upper. This is a plastic device by which military officers may now attach military insignia to shirt collars averting the trial-and-error method. More than 10,000 of these gadgets have been distributed.

Lt. Tassell is a training officer with the Fleet Training Group in San Diego. He invents on his off-duty hours. He formerly lived on S. Bonita st. in Spring Valley.

Chamber Okays Sponsorship Of Project

Committee Hears Lighting Expert Talk About Cost

A chamber sponsored program of street lighting for Broadway was announced last week at a special meeting of the Lemon Grove chamber of commerce.

Larry Folda, president of the group, said the lighting was one of the projects under way to keep customer loyalty to the community after the College Grove shopping center opens late this month.

The lighting district committee members heard G. S. Kimball, a street lighting engineer for the San Diego Gas and Electric Co., explain the requirements for properly illuminating the area between Massachusetts and Olive streets.

He said 45 standards would be needed to handle the mercury vapor lights he recommended for the job.

He estimated the cost to property owners at $6.20 a foot for the installation and about $5.50 a month per light for operation. The lights would be installed under a 1911 Improvement District Act in which the property owners would be liable for the cost of the installation.

Kimball said a savings would be involved because eight such lights are being installed on Broadway following the road improvement now being completed.

Folda said the lighting committee is meeting this week with Supervisor David W. Bird for instructions on putting the district together.

Kimball said that should the installation be approved, the work would be done by a contractor selected by the District representatives.

It would take a minimum of four months to form such a district. The successful contractor could do the work in about 60 days, it is estimated, but he is permitted up to 12 months to do the job.

On the committee for lighting are: Folda, Bill Paul, Max Goodwin, Wallace Dorman, Tony Sonka, Jim Spears, Hank Templeton and Harry Burris.

Local Boys March In International Band Competition

Five local boys left for Chicago by Jet Airliner, Tuesday, July 5, to compete in an international band competition with the Bonham Brothers Boys Band, under the direction of Mr. Jules Jacques.

The boys are: Jim Everett, 7306 Central, Lemon Grove; Mike McCrae, 7155 Mt. Vernon, Lemon Grove; Jim Luick, 1634 Glencoe, Lemon Grove; Chuck Spalding, 9501 Montemar, Spring Valley; Mike Redwine, 8707 La Mar, Spring Valley.

All of the boys are freshmen at Mt. Miguel with the exception of Everett, who attends Helix.

The band is representing all the Lions clubs of California, Arizona, and Nevada. They will return to San Diego July 8.

This band had been playing for five years and had made several hundred appearances and marched in the Rose Parade twice.

TRAILER FIRE—Fire, which has been blamed tentatively on a cigarette dropping into bedding, did an estimated $900 damage Friday to the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

When I die and Saint Peter makes out my transfer papers, I hope that he assigns me to Durango, Colorado.

We stopped off in Durango on our vacation trip, and after hundreds of miles of desert, the quaint mountain town was remarkable.

It makes quite a bid for the summer tourist trade, and keeps many of its old landmarks intact, nearly as they were in the old Western days. There's a saloon on one corner with swinging doors, and you can reach ghost towns by car not far away.

You can ride the old Durango-Silverton narrow-gauge railway to Silverton, another quaint mining town which has preserved much of its old atmosphere.

The narrow-gauge railway, the last I hear—in the country, is in danger of being abandoned. The Denver and Rio Grande railroad company wants to get the old train off its hands. It's a steam locomotive that has been in operation for about 70 years and the company has asked permission to abandon it.

The citizens of Silverton and Durango are all steamed up about it and are planning to descend in force on the public hearing set for July 21 in Durango. About 250 people make the trip to Silverton and back every day—and the people of the two towns argue that abandoning the railroad will ruin the tourist business.

Others, who lean toward preserving historic elements as much as possible, argue that this is the last of the little railroads and the little puffier just can't be lost.

But aside from the old train and the old buildings, the scenery around Durango would make Saint Peter a bit envious. There are towering, snow-capped peaks; snug, green valleys; splashing, cold streams; placid little lakes all around the town. The highway north through Silverton to Ouray is a winding, twisting ribbon of adventure.

Deer feed in the meadows near the road, porcupines bobble along the edge of the highway, a family of skunks preempted the side of the road as we passed.

In the valleys are little cabins and houses, sending grey plumes of wood smoke into the clear air.

And one thing that impressed me about Durango was this: in this virtual paradise, the people have seen fit to provide recreational facilities!

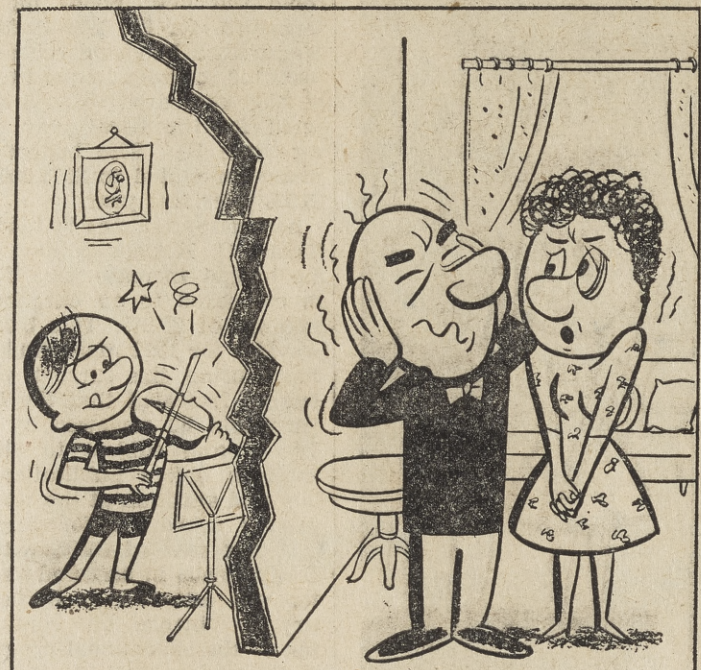

During the time we were there, there were nightly Indian dances on a hill in the town. There's an Olympic-size swimming pool owned jointly by the city and county. There's a golf course in town, advertised as Colorado's most scenic course, adjacent to the college.

There's a public campground adjacent to the Indian village, and all around Durango there are similar campgrounds where anyone can pitch a tent or park a trailer under the pines and aspens.

Every July, they hold the Spanish Trails Fiesta in Durango, with a rodeo, street parade and square dancing. Of course, as a newspaper man, I had to drop in to visit at Art and Morley Ballantine's Durango Herald-News. I missed the Ballantines but I had quite a chat with Gene Perkin, the editor. We swapped newspapering stories and promised to look each other up if either of us visited the other's town soon.

And after we left Durango we dropped down onto the high desert of New Mexico and started wishing that we were in Lemon Grove. We missed the pretty good as we came off the hot part of the day, but on that desert, but I kept remembering afternoon, it was 115 in the Durango. And I vowed to drop a suggestion to Saint Peter about that eventual transfer.

here, without argument or supporting evidence. The first thing the public ought to know, he said, is that marijuana is not addictive. How does he know? Well, he made a two year study of the subject following his arrest for possession of the stuff when he was 17. He also informed us that he is now 18, not 20 as the sheriff's narcotics squad report had him listed.

His interest was aroused in narcotics education after the sheriff's men asked him to correct Probation Department pamphlets on the subject after Lange had complained that the pamphlets contained many errors and discrepancies. They let him pencil out the passages he claimed to be wrong, he said.

One of the grossest errors is that acts of violence are the result of marijuana smoking, he said.

Actually, the user becomes calm and relaxed. He wants no gang rumbles. He wants no hot rod races. He floats along wanting only to maintain the peace and calm which now engulfs him. Soft music, a pretty girl, quiet, romantic movies, and a favorite marijuana pastime, playing records by the hour, he said. It also makes working for a living seem less important, he added.

Lange said marijuana does not distort the perception as many people erroneously believe. "Your vision stays clear and the images true. If you see a car coming toward you while you are driving, you actually see a car, and you can tell how fast it is moving and how far away it is," he said.

"There are more auto accidents involving drinking than marijuana using," he pointed out.

"A lot of youngsters use it to overcome the pressures of everyday life," he said. "If those who are appalled by teenagers' use of narcotics would take a little time for some reading on the subject, they would find use of marijuana isn't as frightening as the lawmakers make it appear."

"Yes, I think the use of it should be considered illegal if that is the law, but I think there should be a better understanding. Young people do not start using it because they are criminals nor should they be considered criminals because they use it."

Lange will stand trial as an adult at a preliminary hearing on July 18 for possession of marijuana. If convicted he can get ten years in a state institution. "Yes, I knew there was marijuana on the premises," he said, "but I wasn't using it. Yes, I knew the hazard of being caught with the stuff in the house, but it wasn't mine."

"I know that it was wrong to be in the same house with marijuana because that is the same as possessing it in the eyes of the law," he said.

"I don't have any choice but to stand trial and take my medicine. If they find me guilty I'll take the penalty without argument."

"No, I don't worry as much about it as my parents do."

"I am anxious to get my prison time started, so I can get it over with. Then I want to return to society and stay out of trouble," he said.

He'll be 28 years old, more than likely, when he returns.

Many housewives will be disappointed to know that trading stamps, like the ones you get when at your favorite shop or market, are now redeemable in cash.

A new law became effective July 1st which gives the stamp saver the choice of taking merchandise or cash, the only qualification being that the redemption value must be at least $1.

Previously, the housewife could take her books, down to a redemption station and browse for hours among the merchandise she might choose from for "free". Browsing and dreaming being a part of the reward for the long period of saving stamps and the tedious job of pasting them into books.

Even the outcome had an element of chance. "Will I save until I have enough for bathroom scales or shall I turn them in now for plastic ear corn holders?" is the type of problem the saver would ponder.

Putting a cash value on stamps seems to take much of the romance out of stamp saving and our bet is that popularity of stamps will decline because of the new law.

Now, with the cash value established and collectible, it may lead the man in the family to demand that the savings be converted into money.

"If I have to take money I'll quit saving stamps," wailed one woman. She explained, with typically feminine logic, that she often spent money for something she didn't particularly want.

"Besides, I have to save (stamps) too long just to exchange them for money," she added.

Henry Goldy and Jack Cruse will be hosts to all persons in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Tuesday at Goldy's El Morocco Cafe. The opening celebration will be built around pit-barbecued, prize-winning beef, from which will be served a complete dinner. The dinner, for which there will be no charge, will be served to all-comers starting at 8 p.m. El Morocco is located at 8015 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Goldy's Back; Invites 1,500 to Dinner

Henry Goldy has come back to Lemon Grove and he's making quite a splash of it by inviting more than 1,500 people to be his dinner guests Tuesday.

An additional parking lot has just been acquired and black-topped adjacent the cafe and accommodates 50 cars under lights. Already meeting at El Morocco on a regular schedule are the Lemon Grove Rotary club, the Lionesses, Helix High Twelve, and Mt. Helix Shrine clubs.

The cafe will be open daily 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. Food will be served from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

The no-charge menu to be served Tuesday at 8 p.m. and again at 11 will consist of barbecued roast beef, hot O'Brien potatoes, garden vegetables, hot rolls and butter.

Insurance Agent Elected President Of Grove Jr. C of C

William H. Barrett Jr., a general insurance agent at 6925 North, Lemon Grove, was elected president of the Lemon Grove Junior Chamber of Commerce at the annual election meeting last week. Installation of officers and directors will be tonight at the home of Terrence Carlton.

Rounding out the executive committee for the fiscal 1960-61, are vice-presidents, Dr. Ray Sederlin, chiropractor, and Earl Sevig, insurance agent, secretary Terrence Carlton, owner of a cabinet making firm, and two treasurers, Del Anderson, owner of Del's Easy Wash, and Hal Bruington, president of Bruington Plumbing Co. State directors are Abe Mukal, a farmer, and Pete Byrne, a whole-sale plumbing salesman. Serving as directors are last year's president, Jim Boyd, State Farm agent, Joe Payson of Tri-Co floors, and Rudy Schmidt, a TV technician.

Barrett, better known to many of his friends as "Biff", has just completed four months of extensive work as chairman of the San Diego Jr. Chamber's Marine Activities Committee which puts on "Harbor Days." Besides serving there, he is an active member of the World Trade Committee of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, a member of the East San Diego County Insurance Agents Assn., and an officer of the local Delta Sigma Phi national fraternity Alumni Assn.

"The first matter of importance for the forthcoming year is to plan a sound program of activities of community importance and then round up some new members to aid us in sponsorship and planning. We also will rely on the two new State Directors to bring attention of

Salk Vaccine Importance Seen

The importance of Salk vaccine is realized by too few people. But some that do realize it are those who have contracted paralytic polio. There were five cases reported in San Diego in June. Three of these had no Salk vaccine inoculations, and they are still in the hospital. A 15-months-old baby boy had two injections in 1959 but did not complete the series. His paralysis is mild. An 8-year-old boy had three inoculations. His chances of recovery are very good.

Paralytic polio occurs most often in warm weather. Persons not yet vaccinated are urged to begin the series of Salk vaccine inoculations at once. It is the only protection we now have.

Lutheran Church Message

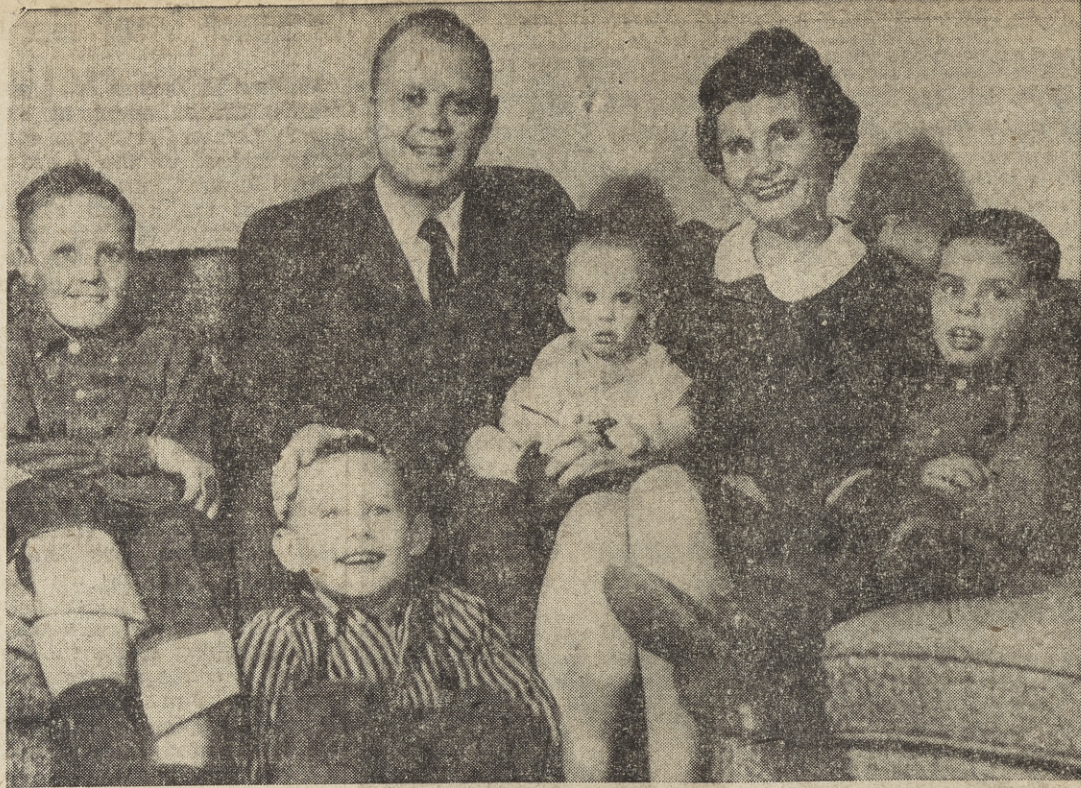

LET US ALL PRAY TOGETHER AS A FAMILY

"The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." I Cor. 1:18. It is not our community standing or self estimate that determines whether or not we are a child of God; it is our attitude toward the cross of Christ. What is your attitude?

SV First Baptist

The Sunday School picnic of the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley will be held Saturday at Flinn Springs, starting at 9 a.m. All members and friends are invited. Children under eight years of age must have written permission to attend if not accompanied by a parent, says Rev. Taylor. "A Good Appetite" will be Rev. Roland Taylor's text for the Sunday 8 and 11 a.m. services. In the evening he will speak on "Mutual Dependents."

New Pastor Honored at Methodist Church Here

A reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Jordan Detzer (he is new Pastor of the Lemon Grove Methodist Church) was given last Friday evening on the church patio. The Woman's Society of Christian Service hosted the affair. Bruch Fredricks, Bill Sele, Mrs. Curtis Barlow and Bill Hofer were in the receiving line representing the official church family.

Dr. Detzer, of the First Methodist church of Barstow, has been appointed by Bishop Gerald Kennedy to the Lemon Grove Methodist Church. He and his wife Jeanne and four sons arrived last week and held their first service entitled "Our God Moves Church and Pastor."

He replaced Rev. Donald B. Cooke, who was transferred to North Long Beach. The Barstow pastor has served the desert community for four years, having received 586 new members in that church in four years, and 50 new members in the Big Bear Methodist church which he and his family started while on their family vacation last year in August.

During his pastorate in Barstow from 1956-60, the church completed the purchasing of an additional 2½ acres of land; built a nine-classroom educational unit; secured and rebuilt a youth building, and gained two new rental properties as the proposed site for the future sanctuary. Their worship center in Fellowship hall has been remodeled and the landscaping renovated.

Two worship services were started each Sunday and the second at 11 a.m. was broadcast "live" from the church over the 5,000 square mile parish where many sick, shut-ins and travelers are located.

Dr. Detzer served in Barstow as the president and vice president of the Community Ministerial Association; vice president of the Coordinating Council of the community; chairman of the House committee of the Barstow Optimist club and has led numerous trips into the desert for various groups interested in Indian lore. He has compiled a sizable collection of artifacts from the desert region which was written up in the June and December issue of DESERT (1959).

The minister graduated from Adrian College in Michigan in 1948 where he and his wife attended. He completed his master's and doctor's work in 1951 and 1953 at Iliff School of Theology, Denver University Graduate school in Colorado. He has served as the chairman of the Leadership Education committee of the conference board of Education for the past four years in southern California. He compiled a noteworthy list of academic achievements and held many student posts in College and Graduate school. In addition, he is a veteran of the Army Air Force in World War II and is noted for his more than 24 years service to The Boy Scout movement. He passed 24 boys on their God and Country Award while in Barstow, serving as the Citizenship merit badge counselor.

Dr. and Mrs. Detzer have served as short-term missionaries for the Methodist church in Nome, Alaska, and he has written numerous articles for both religious and secular publications. During his ministerial career he has served as a col-

Churches To Benefit By Department Store Opening

An estimated 25,000 San Diego City and County residents are expected to tour the new $7,000,000 Walker Scott department store in the College Grove Shopping Center on the nights of July 25 and 26 and by doing so will help contribute $30,000 to $35,000 to the spiritual enrichment of the community, it was announced yesterday.

The unique plan, devised by George A. Scott, president of the Walker Scott Company, has been termed the "All Faiths Benefit Preview". It is part of the week-long pre-opening ceremonies leading to the grand opening of the new store on Thursday, July 28 at 9 a.m.

The All Faiths Benefit Preview plan was announced jointly by Dr. Wayne A. Neal, Executive Director of the San Diego County Council of Churches; the Right Reverend Charles F. Buddy, Catholic Bishop of San Diego, who said that proceeds from the ticket sales will remain in the individual Churches and Synagogues. Catholic Parishes will donate the proceeds of their ticket sales to the University of San Diego.

For each ticket deposited at the Walker Scott College Grove store during the two preview days, the Walker Scott Company will donate $1 to the San Diego County Council of Churches, to the individual Synagogues or to the University of San Diego.

Members of the Protestant and Jewish Faiths will preview the new store on July 25 from 2 p.m. to 9 a.m. Tickets for the previews may be purchased outside the new store on both days from booths set up by representatives of the three faiths.

No merchandise will be sold during the two special preview days and evenings. Refreshments will be provided both afternoon and evening of the 25th and 26th.

College Grove Center is San Diego's first regional shopping center and the new Walker Scott store will be the largest of some 65 stores in the complex. Several of the new stores in the area will be open on July 28. The remaining stores will open during August.

Formal ceremonies opening the Walker Scott store for business will be held at 9 a.m. on Thursday, July 28.

Lemon Grove Lutheran

The Women's Missionary Federation (Ladies Aid) of the Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will hold a potluck dinner at 12:30 on Tuesday at Colina del Sol park, University at 54th. All women of the church have been invited to attend and bring their children with them. Mrs. Jean Muerth is in charge of transportation.

The youth of the church will participate with the youth of all the Evangelical Lutheran churches of the San Diego area in an outing Sunday afternoon at Jerry's hayride and party ranch at Jamul. They are to meet at the church at 2 p.m. with swim suits and sack lunches. Student intern Robert Bagley and the adult advisors will act as chaperons.

Good Play Sparks Pony League Play

Outstanding pitching, good hitting and some very close games seem to predominate the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Pony League games, more and more as the season goes into its final half.

June 27. Lemon Grove Lions whitewashed the Brown and Associate team by a score of 9 to 0. Ronnie Thomas, hurler for the Lions, who has been doing a good job on the mound since (and during) his Little League days, was the winner in this game. Pitching a no hit-no run game, he was one man away from a perfect game, having walked one hitter in the fifth inning. He had 17 strikeouts.

June 28—Cochran's Record Den 12, L.G. Sporting Goods 5. Guy Rowbury was the winning pitcher.

June 29—Central Federal 12, L.G. Merchants 0, with John Carroll the winner on the mound. Doug Ashley of the C.F.'s was really on his toes, getting the three home runs of the game.

June 30—Summers Sporting Goods 14, Brown and Assoc. 11, with Sonny Baggott the winning pitcher. There were six home runs in that fracas: for the Summers team, Woods got one, Estes got two and Corbett got one; for the Brown team, Spencer and Sabo each got one.

July 1—Valley Pharmacy 14, L.G. Lions 6, with Pete Byrne the winner on the mound. His team mate, John Loveland, got the only homer of the game.

In the first game of a double-header, July 2, it was L.G. Merchants 3, L.G. Sporting Goods 2, and Dick Fowles was the winning pitcher.

In the second game, it was Central Federal 3, Cochran's Record Den 2, with Doug Ashley the winning hurler. He allowed just two hits and struck out 15 batters.

In the first game of a double-header, July 3, it was Summers Sporting Goods 8, L.G. Lions 7. Sonny Baggott was winning pitcher, and his team mate, Ben Martin got the lone home run.

In the second game, it was Brown and Assoc. 6, Valley Pharmacy 5. Charlie Cobb, the winning pitcher, got a home run, scoring two men before him.

SD Symphony
Opens Series
Of Concerts

An all-Tchaikovsky program, featuring soloists Mischa Elman, one of the great violin virtuosos, and Mary MacKenzie, new mezzo-soprano opera star, and conducted by Earl Bernard Murray, will open the 1960 summer series of concerts by the San Diego Symphony Orchestra in Balboa Park Bowl July 19, at 8:30 p.m.

Murray, who is the Symphony's music director as well as conductor, has selected such Tchaikovsky favorites as the Violin Concerto in D, to be performed by Mr. Elman, the aria, "Adieu Forests" to be sung by Miss MacKenzie, the overture to "Romeo and Juliet", "Eugen Onegin" Polonaise, and the stirring "1812 Overture."

Mischa Elman's current concert tour represents the 52nd year this enduring artist has appeared before the American music public. Like only a few great athletes, whenever Elman plays in public he sets new concert records. And his recordings have sold more than two million copies, an all-time high for a classical instrumentalist.

Miss MacKenzie vaulted to music heights only recently when she won the nation-wide auditions for the Metropolitan Opera Company. Currently a resident of Del Mar, she brings to the concert stage an extraordinary voice and attractive appearance that are box-office magic.

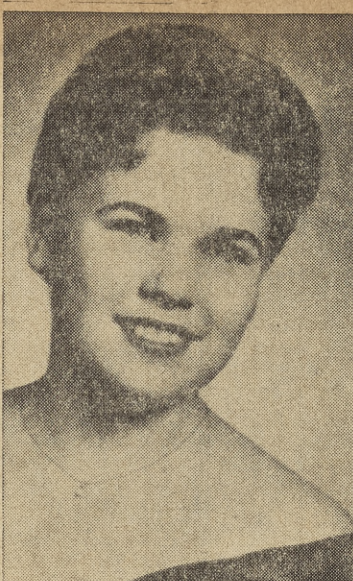

The July 19 concert will be the first of seven weekly Tuesday night "Symphonies Under the Stars" in Balboa Park Bowl ending with the performance of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Leonard Bernstein. Season tickets are available at Thearle Box Office, 640 Broadway, BE 9-8122.

Construction Started For 23 Acre Spring Valley Shopping Center

Start of construction of the new 7 million dollar Spring Valley Shopping Center was marked last week by formal ground breaking ceremonies. One of the larger shopping centers to be announced, 23 acres, the Spring Valley Center will serve the San Diego suburban areas of Spring Valley, La Presa and Lomita. Exact location of the site is at the northeast corner of Sweetwater road and Jamacha Boulevard, 13 miles east of downtown San Diego. Pacific Coast Properties, Inc., owners and developers of the center and their exclusive agents, Coldwell, Banker & Company revealed that leases have been signed with key tenants which include DeFalco Food Giant Markets, S. S. Kresge Company, Sav-On Drugs, Bank of America, Karl's Shoes, Union Oil Company, Mobil Oil Company, and Berner Judd Women's Ready-to-Wear. Negotiations are currently progressing with a large restaurant and numerous specialty tenants. The center is being constructed in two phases. Phase one provides buildings for the above named tenants and others along an ell shaped mall consisting of 915 front feet and a gross building area of 134,000 square feet. The completed center, including phase one and phase two, will encompass over 233,000 square feet of building area. Largest builders, according to architect Maxwell Starkman & Associates, will be DeFalco Food Giant and S. S. Kresge Company with 30,500 square

News of Spring Valley Estates, Mt. Miguel Terrace and La Presa

By Elaine Horowitz

Summer school classes start June 27 and there are 170 students attending at Avondale. Wm. Heidbreder announces that there is still room in the first, second and third grade art-science classes, and in the fourth, fifth and sixth grade French class. Registration for these classes can be made at the school office.

Meet Your Neighbor

Meet Florence and Jim Sperry, Spring Valley Estates residents for the past year. They have five children, ranging in age from nine months to eight years, which include 22-month-old twins.

Florence was born in Los Angeles, and joined Jim here two years ago. She has worked for the Avondale PTA as inside publicity chairman, on the cake and gift sale, Avondale Family Day, and is outside publicity agent for the Spring Valley Little League. Jim was born in Springfield, Ohio, has lived in San Diego for three years. He works as a draftsman for RCA, made all name tags for Avondale PTA meetings, does the typing for Florence's newettes, manages two teams in the Spring Valley Little League, and drew up the plans for the Little League field.

Any time you're about to say you don't have time to contribute to your communities' welfare, think of Florence and Jim, who always make time to help their neighbors.

Seats Available

Reservations for Avondale PTA's Hollywood bus trip have started rolling in, but some room is still available, and something new has been added. Qualified baby-sitters will be made available to those needing them, so for a carefree day of fun, prizes and surprises call Bess Maguire at HO 9-6876. Get your name on the list fast, for you could be one of the lucky persons featured on the TV show It Could Be You.

Post Office

A substation of the Spring Valley Post Office was opened July 1 in the B&W Hardware store, 455 Sweetwater ave., Spring Valley. It is contracted to William Williams, owner of the store.

Zone Change

Hearing Set

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A zone change for about five acres in Spring Valley, in the La Presa area, is slated for a public hearing Friday morning before the County Planning Commission.

The applicant for the reclassification is Robert West. He is asking for apartment house zoning for land on Leland street and for commercial zoning for land on Jamacha road.

The present zoning for West's land, located on the east side of Leland and south side of Jamacha, permits single family dwellings on lots with an area of 6,000 square feet.
